HOME RULE.

The Correspondent of a New York Newspaper Reviews the Debate.

It Has Been Done and the Units of Mr. Gladstone's Majority Kept in Place.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Harold Frederic cables to the Times from London: "At last the thing has been done. The second reading of the Home Rule bill has been passed and every unit in Mr. Gladstone's composite majority has been kept in place. This may be taken as a distinct, substantial triumph in itself, and as making the way almost wholly clear to the coming of the final passage of the measure. This event, they say, bids fair to be reached in December. Why the committee stage should eat up this amount of time, one asks, but the only answer is that Parliament is in the habit of doing things in that way. There was a great rush after the big result was declared to get amendments on record for committee debates, and it is understood that they are likely to number many hundreds. The principal points of heavy attack as seen will now be the final clause, the composition of the second chamber and the question of the retention of the Irish members at Westminster. These are issues on which party lines will be much broken in the debates, and it is difficult to predict results.

"The chances, however, on the whole, favor somewhat an improved monetary bargain on Ireland's part, no alteration in the second chamber scheme and the abandonment of the somewhat fantastic notion of letting the Irish members cast their votes on some questions but not on others. Upon this last clause there has been an unusual amount of misunderstanding and many rumors of dissension. It has been zealously reported, for instance, that Sir Charles Dilke is going to lead a revolt against having the Irish at Westminster at all. The truth is that he and almost every other Radical desires that they shall retain full membership upon the theory that they will help force forward a scheme of federation for Scotland and Wales. I ventured to prophesy on the night the bill was disclosed by Mr. Gladstone that the final outcome would be an unrestricted retention of the Irish, and that seems more probable now than ever before.

The division practically ends formal partisan warfare upon the measure in the House of Commons. The fight in committee of the whole will be waged in quite a different spirit, each member acting on his own hook, as whims or convictions dictate. If the Opposition tries to use the machinery of the committee for obstruction and waste of time, there will be the check of a chairman, who is a Gladstonian and is not afraid to use the cloture. Throughout this whole wearying, anxious spring campaign Mr. Gladstone has taken a far more active part than any one dreamed of expecting. His lieutenants began with all sorts of concerted schemes for saving him labor and inducing him to conserve his health and strength. The collapse of these projects has been comical in its completeness. I doubt if any other minister of the lot has had as many hours of debate as he. Certainly none has followed the whole complexion of word argument with such vigilant, untiring interest.

When finally the debate was brought to a close at midnight, the wonderful veteran sprang to his feet with as brisk an air as a vigorous man in the thirties, and went with a rapid, firm touch over the whole of the the controversy, scoring points right and left upon the principal criticisms, to the delight of the crowded, cheering house, never abating his animation or showing one sign of fatigue, for over an hour. They say he has consented to try and secrete himself when the committee tussels begin, a fortnight hence, but it is likely he will find himself unable to stay away, or being present, to keep still, and, after all, it ought by that time to be fairly clear that it is the Irish question, and plenty of it, which keeps him in his amazing state of physical and mental strength.

LABOR MATTERS.

Trouble Threatened Among the Iron Workers of Pennsylvania—Union Pacific Railway Difficulty.

PITTSBURG, April 25.—The Pittsburg Post says: The probabilities are that the iron trade will witness this year one of the greatest strikes that ever occurred in this part of the country. It is certain that it is to occur if the Amalgamated Association is not prepared to pare down their figures in the next year's scale with no stinted point. The manufacturers look upon a reduction of wages as an absolute necessity to the life of the business.

OMAHA, April 25—The strike of Union Pacific blacksmiths and boilermakers, which began a week ago and threatened to involve 3,500 men in an indefinite lock-out, was brought to an end this evening, and tomorrow morning the men will resume work all along the road. The terms of the settlement will not be given out until they are ratified by President Clark.

TOPEKA, April 25.—The Santa Fe mechanics' strike, which has been in force since Saturday, April 4, was declared off at 6 o'clock last night after half a day's conference between Santa Fe officials and employes. The company retains the new men employed recently, but will give those strikers for whom there are no places preference in hiring new men hereafter. The strikers concede to the company all the essential points at issue.

NEW YORK, April 25. — One-half the locked out clothing cutters returned to work this morning, the difference between them and the manufacturers having been settled. The other half will have to lie idle for a few weeks, as the shops have not enough work on hand now for a full force.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The carpenters at the World's Fair grounds did not strike Monday morning in obedience to the orders of the Carpenters' Council.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Serious trouble with the waiters in nearly all the large hotels and restaurants is imminent, and unless concessions of a substantial nature are made to-day or to-morrow, the waiters propose to paralyze business in all the restaurants of a better class. They have formed a powerful organization within a few weeks, and are prepared to insist on an advance in wages. The strike will take place during the naval review.

ARMORY DESTROYED.

Big Fire in Chicago—The Loss Estimated at Over Five Hundred Thousand.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Chicago's First regiment armory, at the corner of Sixteenth street and Michigan avenue, was almost totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The flames, which soon were beyond the control of the first detachment of engines that arrived, also consumed part of the belongings of the Trocadero Restaurant and Amusement Co., who were to have occupied the building during the World's Fair. Shortly after the fire broke out, an explosion shattered the north and south walls, causing the roof to fall. It is known that two men lost their lives in the flames. They are John Nelson, colored porter, and a colored man, name unknown, a waiter. Two negro waiters were taken out of the third story and removed to St. Luke's hospital. E. W. Latham and Chris. Wiggins, electric light men, were severely burned, but will recover. The loss to the property is now placed at $215,000. The building was one of the ornaments of Michigan avenue. It was a brown stone structure, four stories high, with an imposing frontage on the boulevard. Being favored by its comparatively central location it had been leased by the Trocadero Restaurant and Amusement Co. They spent a large sum in fitting it up as a concert hall, and it was here that Mme. Louise Dikita, the singer, was to have made her debut next Sunday night, opening a long engagement. Various necessities for this in the way of seats, tables, and elaborate scenery had been put in, and only a few finishing touches remained to make the preparations complete. The loss will be at least $200,000.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, April 25—Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced the budget for the coming financial year in the Commons yesterday. The chancellor estimated the expenditures for the current year at £91,464,000 and the revenue at £89,890,000, leaving a deficit of £1,574,000, due in part to a slight expected decrease of revenue, but chiefly to the vast growth in expenditure not created by the Government, but through the demands of the country upon Parliament. He said that the Government would not propose to cover the deficit by encroaching upon the sinking fund devoted to the reduction of the national debt, but preferred to meet the deficit by the straightforward way of increased taxation. The Government resorted to an income tax, which it was proposed to increase by one penny on each pound, and this ought to add £1,705,000 to the revenue.

Hon. G. J. Goschen, who was chancellor of the exchequer under Lord Salisbury's administration, condoled with the chancellor in having to meet rising expenditures with a falling revenue, and other comments were made generally favorable to the budget.

A motion was made to amend the Home Rule bill by providing that the Government withdraw the military forces from Ireland before a Parliament is established in Dublin.

Thomas Sexton, anti-Parnellite, in the Commons to-day questioned Hon. Mr. Asquith, home secretary, regarding the Belfast riots. In reply Mr. Asquith read an official report of the rioting in Belfast yesterday. As regards the speeches of eminent politicians, Mr. Sexton designated Rt. Hon. Mr. Balfour and Lord Randolph Churchill and Rt. Hon. Mr. Asquith, and expressed the opinion that they had incurred a heavy responsibility by using intemperate language directly calculated to incite the bitterest party strife, but the Government had taken every possible step, he said, to prevent a recurrence of the deplorable demonstrations.

U. S. CONSUL EGAN.

He is at Last Recalled From Chili, Whose People are Glad to Be Rid of Him.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Chilian incident is closed, and Minister Egan is coming home. The State Department rebukes him for his action in sheltering refugees Fuentes and Holly, and the Chilians are incensed with him because of his alleged connivance at their escape when instructed to harbor them in the legation no longer. He gave them asylum as political refugees; but was informed by the Department that they were not entitled protection on that ground. When he turned them out, in observance of his instructions, Holly escaped; but Fuentes was captured by the guard that surrounded the legation. Judge Porter, who succeeds Mr. Egan, as Minister to Chili, will start for Santiago on May 20th. Mr. Egan, it is said, will not await his arrival, but will start for home in a few days, leaving Consul McCreary in charge.

MAJESTIC SPECTACLE.

Plans for the Opening of the World's Fair Perfected—The Big Engine Tested.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Steam was to-day turned into the cylinder of the mammoth engine at the World's Fair grounds, that is to furnish the power which President Cleveland will on Monday press into activity at the touch of a button. The performance of the engine was declared to be perfect. Except for a few delays, the plans for the opening of the exhibition are now settled, promising a simple but majestic spectacle.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Minister of Public Works Coming to British Columbia—Case of the "Romulus."

Canada at World's Fair Opening—Hon. Mr. Haggart Going to Crow's Nest.

(From our own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, April 25.—Hon J. A. Ouimet, minister of public works, and Mr. Coste, chief engineer, will leave for British Columbia on Monday on a tour of inspection of the different public works. It is expected they will be away four weeks.

The Government has had under consideration the case of the steamer Romulus which had been ordered to vacate the Esquimalt dock. While the naval authorities have the law on their side, it is thought a little concession on both sides will tide over the difficulty. Hon. Mr. Tupper has stated that he will see the Admiralty and try to induce them to send the Garnet to Behring Sea instead of the Champion, so that the latter can wait her turn for the use of the dock.

A local lawyer was to-day ordered to pay the doctor's bill of a lady named Clift, who was taken ill in his office. The judge held that the lawyer was liable because he had summoned medical assistance.

Comptroller Wallace has decided that paper boxes, such as are used by jewelers and confectioners, are dutiable 38 per cent. instead of 10 cents and 20 per cent. Playing cards imported in sheets must pay at the rate of 6 cents per pack.

Hon. Messrs. Bowell and Angers will represent the Government at the formal dedication of the World's Fair. They leave here on Friday.

Hon. Mr. Haggart will proceed to the North West Territories in two weeks, his object being to make a personal inspection of the Crow's Nest Pass, through which the new line of the Canadian Pacific runs.

CABLE NEWS.

Incendiarism in Hull.

LONDON, April 25.—Another incendiary fire was started in Hull yesterday at the timber dock, but it was discovered and extinguished before doing much damage. Riotous crowds filled the streets near the docks, and several fights took place this afternoon, in which a number of persons were injured.

Cholera Leaving Persia.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The Official Gazette in recording cholera statistics for the empire, denies that a case was found in this city since last December. The Persian consul announces that the cholera has disappeared from Persia.

Accident in London—Four Persons Killed.

LONDON, April 24 —The stone coping for several four-story houses in Peel road, Kilburn, fell this afternoon while the street was full of pedestrians, and four persons were killed and fifteen injured.

Crops in Europe Damaged.

LONDON, April 25.—A dispatch from Paris to the Times says: Long-needed rain fell near Havre and Bordeaux on Monday, but elsewhere in France the drouth continues to wither the crops. Throughout Italy losses have resulted from the unprecedented dryness of the season. Outside of Sicily the damage already done is estimated at £1,000,000. Agricultural districts in Southern Russia are suffering from severe frosts and in Germany the drouth is unbroken. In Austria-Hungary it has resulted in disastrous fires in forests and small villages have been destroyed. A dispatch from Cairo says that unusual cold has retarded the cotton crop.

Bismarck's Visitors.

HAMBURG, April 24.—Thousands of persons took advantage of the delightful weather of Sunday to make excursions to Friedrichsruhe. Prince Bismarck showed himself at the gates of the palace and afterwards walked in the park. His health is much better. He sleeps well and his cough has ceased.

Explosion in Rome.

ROME, April 24.—On Saturday evening a bomb was exploded in front of the firemen's guard room near the Capitol. Several windows were shattered and the pedestal column of the Capitol was damaged. No arrests were made.

The Franco-Siamese Trouble.

SINGAPORE, April 24.—The Franco-Siamese difficulty is regarded here as serious. Siamese traders, as they fear there will be fighting, have ceased importing rice, and dealers are hoarding it.

Shakespeare's Anniversary.

LONDON, April 24.—The anniversary of Shakespeare's birthday was celebrated yesterday at Stratford-on-Avon.

An American Composer.

ROME, April 23.—The "Jubilee Mass," composed by Dr. Frank G. Dossert, of New York, was sung in St. Peter's on Sunday. Verdi hastened to congratulate Dr. Dossart as soon as the mass was concluded. In the evening Dr. Dossert dined with Meluzzi, director of St. Peter's choir. This is the first time an American composer has thus been honored in Rome.

Train Wreck in Chili.

VALPARAISO, April 24.—An express train running between Santiago and Valparaiso was wrecked on Sunday night. The engine with two cars fell twenty-seven feet, the cars took fire from the lamps, and it is reported that many persons were burned to death. It is not known whether the accident was caused by train wreckers or a defect in the roadbed.

Russian Finance Scandal.

LONDON, April 25.—A despatch from Berlin gives a story revealing the shady side of the Russian finance scandal. It states that the former Russian Finance Minister, M. Bunge, intended to issue paper roubles to ammount of 300,000,000 at the time of the Russo-Turkish war; but the money was not needed. The notes were therefore ordered to be destroyed in batches. Meanwhile M. Vishnegradsky came into office and allowed the announcement of the destruction of the notes to be published, although notes for 90,000,000 roubles are still in hand. The Government has decidedly secretly to place them in in circulation in behalf of the new Siberian Railway, and thus get 90,000,000 roubles for which it will not have to account in the Budget.

Mollendo Consulate Affair.

VALPARAISO, April 24.—A correspondent in Lima telegraphs that the premises looted by the mob in Mollendo were never known as the consulate of the United States. No consul is stationed there and the office of vice-consul is located in Arequipa. Myer, who was shot in the foot by the mob, was a German resident of Molendo, who had the authority of the vice-consul in Arequipa to vise papers for vessels entering and clearing from the port. The vice-consul says there is no ground for which an indemnity can be made against Peru. While the mob of fanatics destroyed the Masonic temple, neither shield nor flags indicated that it was a consulate. The Peruvians believe that Myer, having lost his stock of goods, wanted to involve the United State so as to obtain damages for the loss he sustained.

Home Rule Amendment.

LONDON, April 25.—In the Commons a motion was made to amend the Home Rule bill yesterday by providing that the Government withdraw the military forces from Ireland before Parliament is established in Dublin.

R. C. Bishop Dead.

DUBLIN, April 25.—Rev. Hugh Conway, Roman Catholic bishop of Killala, died to-day.

Royal Levee.

LONDON, April 25.—The Prince of Wales held a levee at St. James' palace yesterday. Hon. R. T. Lincoln, United States Minister; Henry White, secretary of the legation, and J. J. C. Post, military attache, attended.

An Infernal Machine in London.

LONDON, April 24.—An infernal machine, designed apparently to be operated by electricity, was found in the garden of a house in Tottenham Court road. A foreign couple who formerly lived in the house behaved so suspiciously that they were watched by the police. Recently the couple disappeared. It is supposed that they were the owners of the machine.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Confession of a Murder Whose Details Had Baffled Investigation.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., April 25.—On the night of December 1, C. O. Walker was shot through the window of Mrs. Monk's cabin, near Ben Lomond, while playing cards. Who the murderer was remained a matter of conjecture for several days, but ex-Sheriff Jennings got a clue and arrested George J. Bullock and James Burns. The latter was discharged on account of insufficient evidence, but Bullock was tried, found guilty of murder and sent to the penitentiary for life. Since then District-Attorney Lindsay has been on the case. He has visited the prison three times and obtained a confession from Bullock. Burns was again arrested to-day and Bullock was brought back from prison as a witness. At the second examination Bullock tells the story that he and Burns were drunk, and having a grudge against Walker they went with the determination to kill him. Bullock proposed to draw a straw, but Burns said he would not. He then took a rifle, called Bullock and placing the rifle over Bullock's shoulder fired with fatal results. Justice Craighill held Burns over to appear before the superior court.

Statement Denied.

TORONTO, April 23.—The general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce denies the statement sent out from New York that his bank had withdrawn a large amount of gold from the sub-treasury at New York. He says that shipment may have been made to Europe in connection with the bank's exchange business, but that no gold has been withdrawn for shipment to Canada. He adds that the bank has not yet lost all faith in the common sense of the American people or that of the present administration of the Treasury department at Washington.

U. S. Consul for Victoria.

The Post-Intelligencer says: "It is reported that Everett is to be favored by the present administration in the appointment of E. F. Bogart as consul to Victoria. Mr. Bogart's candidacy for this position has been an open secret for some time past among those who were in a position to know, and it is understood that a recent trip made by this gentleman and A. H. Gamel to Tacoma, ostensibly in the interests of the latter for the position of surveyor-general, was in fact for the purpose of securing to Mr. Bogart the support of the Democratic state central committee, and it has been strongly hinted since his return that the trip was not a failure. Without doubt Mr. Bogart's candidacy, if indorsed by the state committee, will result favorably, and the appointment will be satisfactorily received as a fit recognition of his ability and party services."

The ferry steamer Surrey has been leased to Captain Card for two years at a hundred dollars a year. The rent is not big, but it is better than a deficit of over $1,000 annually, as for several years.

A public meeting has been called in the Town hall, Surrey, on Saturday next, to discuss the political situation.

The public market is to be largely extended, and a cold storage plant put in.

The inquest was concluded yesterday on the body of William Zachary, and resulted in the jury finding a verdict of "wilful murder against some person or persons unknown." This startling verdict has taken everyone by surprise. When Zachary disappeared on March 10 and his boat was found stranded on a snag, the general impression prevailed that he had been drowned. It is now plain that a foul murder was committed. When Captain Pittendrigh saw the body on Saturday he observed an ugly wound on the head, which he considered sufficiently suspicious to warrant a post mortem examination. The inquest was adjourned until yesterday, when Dr. Boggs went up to Port Haney, and his inspection revealed the shocking fact that Zachary had been murdered by a blow on the head from a club or some other dull instrument. The blow apparently was given while Zachary was on the bank trying to get his boat off, and the presumption is that the murderer rolled the body into the river and allowed it to float away. There is one very slim clue to the murderer, and Governor Moresby will make the most of it.

J. B. Simm, of Matsqui, accused of passing counterfeit money, has been honorably discharged.

The Westminster Slate Co., have received the contract for slate to roof the new Canadian Pacific railway station-houses at Calgary, Regina and Portage la Prairie. Twelve carloads of freight will be required for this purpose, and the first consignment will go forward at once.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, April 25.—At the last regular meeting of Prosperity Grove, No. 1, U. A. O. D., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: John Hilbert, N.A.; Henry Sticklehunt, V.A.; J. S. Greenwell, secretary; Robt. Rivers, treasurer; F. J. Curran, conductor.

J. Schenck, of Washington, is now in town with the object of starting a brick yard here. Mr. Schenck owns an extensive brick making plant, which he purposes bringing over here if he can make satisfactory arrangements. There is a splendid opening for such an industry in this locality, and should the gentleman decide to start in that business there is but little doubt that it will prove a good paying investment.

The election of officers for the ensuing year of the Nanaimo Building Society takes place next Friday evening in the Y.M.C.A. rooms.

There is trouble at present between the Trades and Labor Council and the tailoring firm of Morgan & Commerford. The latter refuse to employ union men on the ground that business is too dull to allow of their paying the schedule wages. Nanaimo has been visited recently by a number of Eastern tailors who took a very large number of orders for suits, thus cutting into the business of the local men. Messrs. Morgan & Commerford now employ a large staff of men who are entirely satisfied with the wages paid them and who are working regularly, whereas the union men in town can barely make living expenses.

The Bradly bigamy case has been laid over and will probably never come up. It is understood that friends of the parties interested have persuaded the plaintiff to stay proceedings.

Fresh shipping is arriving every day, both for the New Vancouver Coal Company and the Wellington colliery. Yesterday the bark Wilna arrived. She will load a cargo of N. V. C. Co.'s coal. The ship Guardian also arrived to load East Wellington coal. The ss. Costa Rica is due at Departure Bay. Last evening the ss. Willamette sailed for San Francisco.

The U. S. revenue cutters Paterson and Hasslar are in the bay taking on fuel. They leave for the North this evening or sometime to-morrow.

The Odd Fellows' ball in the opera house to-morrow evening, in commemoration of the 74th anniversary, will be largely attended.

The Esplanade and Protection Island shafts are to be connected by a submarine cable telephone. About 7,000 feet of cable will be required.

Constable Maitland Dougall, of Duncan's, arrived over from Vancouver last evening, having in charge Thomas Kemper, whom he arrested at New Westminster. Kemper, for some time past, has been engaged in peddling whiskey among the Indians in Dougall's district. The constable got on his track, but he managed to get away in his canoe. Dougall learned of his having made for the Royal City, and immediately set off for that place, his mission proving successful. The constable with his prisoner went down to Duncan's this morning, when the latter will be tried by the resident magistrate.

DUNCAN'S.

DUNCAN'S, April 25.—The local performance of "The Rivals" was given last night at the Agricultural hall by amateur members of the Cowichan Pleasant Evenings Society before a crowded and appreciative audience. The acting of Miss J. Hadwin, as Mrs. Malaprop, and Dr. A. W. Watson as Sir Anthony Absolute was excellent. Mr. J. C. Harris gave a finished rendering of Bob Acres, Miss Jaynes' part as Lydia Languish was well sustained, and Mr. G. Hawdin made a good study of "David." The minor characters were well impersonated and the play went well throughout. An enjoyable dance was indulged in after the conclusion of the comedy.

Mr. W. C. Duncan has been elected by acclammation councillor for Quamichan ward in place of Mr. Edward Musgrave, resigned.

R. E. Jackson and Mr. T. Johnston came up on Saturday's train and returned to town yesterday.

The Odd Fellows Society give a ball at the Agricultural hall on Wednesday evening next which promises to be a big affair.

H. H. Nagle is here on Alexandra park business.

J. C. Prevost, J. J. Leggatt, Mr. Phipps and J. K. Worsfold paid flying visits to the settlement on Saturday last.

Mr. Browne (England) and H. Wilson go up to Cowichan lake to-morrow to try their luck with the trout.

Mrs. Chalk, a native of London, England, died yesterday at Mr. D. Ford's house, Koksilah.

THE KAISER IN ROME.

His Interview With the Pope—The Royal Fetes—A Brilliant Demonstration.

ROME, April 24.—It is understood in official circles that the interview yesterday between the Pope and the Emperor of Germany was on the question touching the Catholic Church's attitude in German politics, specially touching the attitude of the German Clerical party toward the imperial policy. The Emperor's friendly conversation and gift of a diamond-studded snuff-box, bearing his portrait, to Cardinal Leodochowski, who favors the triple alliance, are much commented on. The fetes in honor of the silver wedding of King Humbert and Queen Marguerita were continued to-day with a review and grand procession. King Humbert and Emperor William, with their wives and a brilliant cavalcade of royal princes and other dignitaries, rode to the point of review and received an ovation from the vast concourse of people who thronged the streets.

Some Meet With Trials and Disappointments When Buying.

BE NOT DECEIVED!

SEE THAT YOU GET PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND!

Men and women who endure the torments and agonies of rheumatism, liver and kidney troubles, dyspepsia, nervousness, sleeplessness and neuralgia have sufficient to contend against without being subjected to other severe trials and disappointments.

It is now acknowledged on every hand that sufferers from the above mentioned diseases have a deliverer in Paine's Celery Compound—a medicine that never fails to bring relief and cure. The disappointments that the afflicted meet with from time to time are wholly due to the influence of those who are actuated by degrading and mercenary motives. When Paine's Celery Compound is asked for, by sufferers or their friends, the storekeeper will often prevail upon the buyer to take some other medicine which, he assures them is just as good. There is no other medicine in the world that can for a moment compare with Paine's Celery Compound for curing the diseases just referred to. The dealer trys to sell some other preparation, simply because it pays a big, round profit. It is in this way that hundreds are misled and kept on in suffering and agony,

We believe it is only necessary to warn the public, so that they may be on their guard when buying. When you ask for Paine's Celery Compound, do not be persuaded to take any other medicine. If you cannot get what you ask for at once, go to some one who is always ready to sell what is wanted. Honest merchants are plentiful, so that there is no necessity of submitting to greedy and dishonest men who care not for your condition of health. Paine's Celery Compound means new life, vigor and extended years.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Ship "Alaska" of San Francisco Foundered but Crew Saved by Passing Vessel

Garter Will Not Deport Chinese Till Supreme Court Renders Decision on Geary Bill.

The Alaska Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The schooner Melancthon arrived this morning with the crew of the ship Alaska on board. The Alaska, Capt. J. Brannan, left Bellingham Bay on April 11th, with a cargo of coal for this port, and early in the morning of the 22nd inst., two feet of water was found in her hold. At six o'clock the same evening the water had increased to seven feet. The water gained rapidly, even with both pumps going, and the vessel becoming unmanageable it was decided to abandon her. The crew took to boats and at 8 o'clock were picked up by the Melancthon. The Alaska was owned by Samuel Blair of this city and her cargo was consigned to Husband & Brooks. The loss on the vessel and cargo is estimated at about $65,000; uninsured.

Captain Brennan when seen this morning said the leak was an old one. A year ago the Alaska sprang a leak while coming here from the Sound, but Capt. Brennan brought her safely into port. She was put on the drydock at that time, and it was discovered that the leak was aft, near the keel. The aperture was calked and the vessel has been apparently all right ever since. "The leak occurred the first day we were out," said Capt. Brennan. "As soon as the tug left us I found we were making water. It was not long before we were making five inches an hour, and rapidly increasing until the time we left her, when there was 12 feet in her. We abandoned her in 42.25 degrees north latitude and 126 degrees west longitude. For three days we were sinking, and with my maintopgallant sail I attempted to make Trinidad, where there is a good safe harbor. It was about noon on Saturday that we sighted the Melancthon coming right in our wake. I saw that in her lay our salvation, and I put up signals of distress. When the time did come to act, we had to move lively, and none of the men saved anything but what they had on them. It was 6 o'clock on Saturday night when the last boat reached the schooner. Captain Forrest wanted to know if he should stand by the ship, but I told him that it was no use. She was settling rapidly when I left her and she was at the bottom before daylight."

Chinese Deportation.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Since the Chinese Six Companies have reached the conclusion that they will not obey the provisions of the Geary Act, District Attorney Garter has had occasion to write many letters to the Attorney-General in connection with the matter, asking for information as to what he should do after May 5. The United States District Attorney gave his opinion on the subject and expressed his willingness to undertake the task of deporting the Chinese. The first information that reached here of a definite character came to-day from the United States Attorney-General who concurs in the opinion expressed by District Attorney Garter. "However," says the letter, "the Supreme Court is to pass upon the constitutionality of the Geary Act, and arrangements have been made for a prompt hearing before that tribunal. In view of the fact that the Supreme Court is to decide this matter, I shall instruct you to refrain from causing the arrest of Chinamen or holding them in custody until the decision of the Supreme Court is rendered."

Convention of Journalists.

NEW YORK, April 24.—All the arrangements have been perfected for the forthcoming convention of the International League of Press Clubs at St. Paul. The New York, Boston and Philadelphia delegates will start from New York city on a special train of palace cars on the morning of May 16, and will pick up the delegates from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago and other points en route. As special guests the party will have George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger; Gen. Felix Agnus, of the Baltimore American; Gen. Charles H. Taylor, of the Boston Globe, and Col. John A. Cockerill, of the New York Advertiser. The convention will be in session at St. Paul for three days, after which the delegates will go to Chicago.

Russian Extradition Treaty.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Tens of thousands of hand-bills are being distributed to-day inviting the lovers of liberty to turn out en masse at Central Music hall to-morrow afternoon, for the purpose of recording the vigorous protest of the World's Fair city against the Russian extradition treaty, and of demanding its recall by President Cleveland. Chancellor Tuley, the oldest judge on the bench in this city, will preside, and the speakers will include Prof. David Swing, Rev. O. P. Gifford, Miss Florence Kelly and some exiled Russians.

The Westminster Confession.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—A special meeting of the Presbytery of Philadelphia is being held to-day to consider what answer it shall make to the overtures from the General Assembly on the revision of the confession of faith. Some months ago the presbytery declined to give any answer to the overtures, and decided to ask that the constitutional question involved should be considered by the higher body. This action, however, was subsequently reconsidered, and to-day the presbytery is taking up the question seriatim.

Chilian Cabinet.

VALPARAISO, April 24.—The changes in the cabinet which were predicted would be made have been announced. Under the change Erazurius becomes foreign minister, Rojas minister of justice and public instruction, and Pedro Montt minister of the interior. The post of minister of the hacienda is left vacant.

The Liberty Bell.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Everything is in readiness for the departure on Wednesday of the famous Liberty Bell, which is to be one of the attractions of the World's Fair at Chicago. Commissioner Farquhar left Harrisburg for that city to-day for the purpose of opening up the state building. Accompanying him are the twelve attaches that will constitute the regular force at the state headquarters, and whose salaries will aggregate some $2,000 monthly. The Liberty Bell will be guarded by six Philadelphia policemen, who will be on duty around it all day, and sleep within sight of it all night.

INTERESTING SUIT.

An Estate Worth More Than a Million and a Half Contested in the Courts.

SEATTLE, April 23.—In Snohomish considerable interest is being taken in the suit of Victor E. Kromer against Frank P. Friday, the Rucker brothers and Henry Hewitt, jr., before Judge Denny. The suit is to regain possession of the Kromer estate, consisting of 148 acres of land in the heart of Everett, The nail factory, the Monte Cristo hotel and most of the water front of the city is comprised in the tract, and its value is estimated at $1,500,000. The suit is interesting not only on account of the large amount involved, but also from the prominence of the parties. It also promises to be one of the most bitterly contested cases in the history of the country.

The land in question was filed on by Erskine D. Kromer, on May 20, 1870. Kromer was a pioneer settler of this section, and had resided on the land as far back as 1864, years before it was surveyed. He was well known throughout the country, and on his land was the first telegraph office of the neighborhood, in which Kromer was the first operator. He proved up on land on October 26, 1876, and obtained his patent on December 30, 1876, On December 21, 1876, five days prior to obtaining his patent, he went before a justice of the peace and was married to an Indian woman named Emma Kanouse, with whom he had been living for several years. The justice who married them was named Frost, and is now dead, but was a pioneer, and for years justice of the peace at Mukilteo.

The fact that Kromer, who was a highly educated man and came of a good New York family, should have married a squaw is surprising, but has numerous parallels in the early history of the Sound country, though few of these marriages were made binding by any ceremony. However, he took the step and installed his wife in his house in which he lived in comfort, surrounded by a library which was the wonder of those days. After a number of years the condition of Kromer's health induced him to take a trip to Portland, where he died on August 31, 1885. His body was brought back and buried under the auspices of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

VERAGUA—CLEVELAND.

The Descendant of Columbus Pays His Respects to the President of the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Nobility paid its respects to democracy this afternoon at the White House when the Duke of Veragua called on President Cleveland. The ducal party rode in two open carriages from the Arlington hotel and arrived at the mansion at exactly 3 o'clock. With the duke were his wife, his brother, Marquis de Barboles; his son, Christopher Columbus Aguilera; Commander F. W. Dickins, representing the United States Government, and Mrs. Dickins and Senor Roderigo de Savadera, an attache of the Spanish legation in this city, representing the Spanish minister. The Duke and attendants were shown immediately into the blue room, where the President and Mrs. Cleveland awaited them. The black frock coat which Mr. Cleveland wore contrasted strongly with the gold lace and brass buttons of the Duke, the Marquis and of Don Savadera and Commander Dickens. Gold lace was the predominant feature of the uniform of the Duke, while across his breast he wore a sash of watered silk in variegated colors. Hardly less brilliant was the costume of the Marquis, while Don de Savadera outshone both in the picturesqueness of a long cape of white doeskin, reaching nearly to his heels.

The naval uniform of Commander Dickins, usually considered showy and brilliant, was almost sombre in the contrast it bore to the attire of the Spaniards. All four of the men wore swords, the duke's being heavily jeweled. There was no attempt at ceremony in the blue room. Commander Dickins made the introductions and a few words were spoken, with just a suggestion of formality by the duke and president in reference to the visit of the duke to America. Then the ducal party bowed itself out, re-entered the carriages and were driven to the navy department. In the absence of Secretary Herbert, Assistant Secretary McAdoo received the visitors and, after some conversation, accompanied them to the state department, where they were met by Secretary Gresham in the diplomatic room. Escorted by Assistant Secretary Adee, of the state department, the duke and his party went to the office of Secretary Lamont and paid their respects. This ended the reception, and the party returned to the Arlington.

DEARER BEEF.

Fed Cattle Getting Scarce in Washington and Oregon—Sheep are More Plentiful.

The supply of fed cattle for beef purposes is about exhausted in Oregon and Washington, and within ten days supplies will have to come from California. After to-day wholesale prices will be 8 cents per pound, which makes a corresponding rise in retail prices on all qualities of beef. The wholesalers in Seattle have had to ship from California three seasons out of the last four just passed. It will be fully sixty days before any fed cattle in Washington will be ready for the block, and during that time a great many beeves will be shipped in. A. J. Splawn, of the Yakima market, states that they will probably ship 10,000 head during the sixty days. Freights are high, ranging from $130 to $150 per car.

"This," said Mr. Splawn, "makes beef very expensive. This year the shortage is very pronounced and will continue sixty days. There are not enough fed cattle to supply the local demands, and each year it becomes necessary to import. The prospects are that sheep will not be so high. There has not been an Eastern buyer in Washington or Oregon this year. Sheep have been high East and that has induced many to spread out in the business. Several sheep raisers have shipped East but have all lost money. Six years ago sheep could be bought in Yakima county for $1 50 per head. They jumped up to $3.50. The fleece usually paid a dollar, besides the increase doubled last year. Many farmers have grown rich in sheep raising. The industry has driven out the cattle business, but I think the business is on the wane. Sheep are now worth $2.50 after fleecing."

Spring medicine and Hood's Sarsaparilla are synonymous terms, so popular is this great medicine at this season.

4 Miles (about) Standing Fences, in good order; Corralls, 10 miles barbed wire and staples; about 2,500 Posts on the ground, ready for use, etc., etc.

Small Lot Household Furniture, Stove and Pipes, Cooking Utensils, Crockery, etc., etc.

This Property is within easy distance of many of the most important Gold, Silver and Coal Mines in West Kootenay. The population of this district will increase this year by at least 10,000; the area of farm land is very limited, and from this it may be fairly asserted that beef and all classes of farm produce will find a ready and lucrative market. The soil is the best bottom land, and the locality is one of the few places in the Province where so large a piece of good farm land can be found in one block. A river runs through the property, and rainbow trout are plentiful and afford capital sport. Deer abound in considerable numbers. Bear, Wolf, Coyote and other large game are to be found in the hills. There are two creeks recorded and belonging to the estate, one flows all the year round. Limestone and brick clay are to be had in the valley.

The Cattle are well bred; a much larger herd could be farmed with the place. The bunch grass on the hills in the vicinity covers many thousands of acres, and is available to the few land owners in the valleys. All buildings and fences about the farm are in good order, and farming operations can be gone on with at once; about 180 acres of ploughing have been, so far, provided for this year's work.

The Climate is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

The Title is by grant from the Crown, and is free of all encumbrances. Immediate possession can be given.

Important Railway works are now in progress within moderate distance, and two railway lines have been run to pass close to or through the estate, which can be reached in the spring in three days' journey from Victoria.

The South West Kootenay District, British Columbia, judging from the actual ore products of the mines this winter, is destined in the next year or two to become one of the richest and most important mineral centres in the world. Statistics show, that although the district is in its primary stage, the mines have developed ore veins rich enough to warrant the investment of over a million dollars. When these mines come to be worked systematically, there will be an Influx of Population, which will require beef and farm produce in large quantities. The limited quantity of really good farm land in the district to supply these requirements makes this

THE DOMINION BUILDING.

We hardly think that Alderman Bragg's motion with regard to the Post Office is very well considered. In these days of letter carriers and pillar boxes, having the Post Office in a central situation is not of so much consequence as it is in country districts and small villages where there are no such conveniences. But it is of very considerable importance that the Dominion public building be large and handsome, and in every way an ornament to the city. If the Post Office, the Custom House, the Inland Revenue office, and the office of the Department of Marine are all under one roof, the Dominion Government can with reason be asked to spend a large sum of money on the building, and to make it a structure such as British Columbians can be proud of. If, on the other hand, the Post Office is in one part of the town the Custom House in another and the other offices here and there, none of the buildings will be worth looking at, and the sums expended on them will not in the aggregate be so great as that required for one imposing edifice. We do not know where the Post Office would be built if it were required to place it mathematically in the centre of the city, but we venture to say that the site would be much more out of the way of the majority of the inhabitants than that chosen for the new building. There is no place in which the building could be placed that would satisfy every one who has old-fashioned notions with respect to having the Post Office in a central situation.

TROUBLE AHEAD.

It is evident that the Egyptian difficulty is far from being settled. There are, it appears, reasons for believing that the young Khedive chafes under British dictation. He is intelligent and ambitious and wishes to be a ruler in deed as well as in name. He is not satisfied to have to look to Great Britain whenever there is anything important to be done in the country of which he is nominally the sovereign. There are many who are ready to encourage this natural ambition in the young Khedive. There are discontented natives who are jealous of Great Britain's supremacy, and who would, if they had the power, drive the British out of the country. The French, too, are not pleased to see the British occupying Egypt. It is more than suspected that it was an intriguing Frenchman who prompted the Khedive, a short time ago, to take an independent stand and to dismiss and appoint ministers without reference to the representative of Great Britain in Cairo, and it is feared that the young man is still to a considerable extent under French influence. Although the Khedive was obliged to succumb to British dictation, it seems to be expected that he will not remain patient under the tutorship of Lord Cromer. But the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, Lord Rosebery, takes a firm stand. In a recent despatch to Lord Cromer, he writes, evidently in anticipation of future difficulties: "That we must maintain the fabric of Administration which has been constructed under our guidance, and must continue the process of construction without impatience, but without interruption, of an administrative and judicial system which shall afford a reliable guarantee for the future welfare of Egypt." From this we may conclude that if the Khedive again becomes restive, if he places himself in opposition to the British and tries to reverse the British policy, he will be treated pretty much as he was a month or two ago. If there is a struggle between him and Lord Cromer, the one to give way will not be Lord Cromer.

There is no doubt that the occupation of Egypt by Great Britain has been for the good of Egypt morally and materially, and it is very certain that if the British were to abandon the country prematurely, it would in a short time go back to its old, miserable and embarrassed condition. Even the opponents of British occupation are obliged to admit that from a material point of view, the British have done a great deal for Egypt. The lot of the miserable peasant has been greatly ameliorated, and the great engineering works constructed for the purpose of irrigation, will remain for ages monuments of British intelligence and British philanthropy. The improvement in the domestic policy of the country has also been great. Life and property are now as safe in Egypt as they are in any European state. This was not the case previous to 1881. A correspondent of the Times, whose communication is noted editorially, says:

No one who has not lived in Egypt can fully realize what our work has been. I am not now referring to the material benefits which we have conferred, great as they are. We have raised the whole moral tone of the people. We have gradually taught them to believe that the British power in Egypt is a power for justice—a power that will see that the weak have equal liberties with the strong. The change that had come over the public feeling from 1882 to 1890 was enormous; it has undoubtedly increased since; but of that I cannot speak from knowledge. Only a few weeks ago Arabi himself—Arabi, whom we ejected—Arabi whom Mr. Blunt proclaimed an inspired prophet—Arabi declared that the only hope for Egypt was our supremacy in Egypt. Weaken that belief in our power, as we are doing now, and we shall introduce seven spirits worse than that which we suppressed.

The Mr. Blunt mentioned in the above extract is a gentleman who wishes to be considered an authority on Egyptian affairs. He has written an article for the Nineteenth Century favoring the policy of scuttle. This is how the Times notices Mr. Blunt:

We need not pay much attention to an article in one of the monthly reviews, in which Mr. Wilfred Blunt professes to reproduce as the personal policy of the Khedive views absolutely at variance with the assurances given to Lord Cromer. Mr. Blunt is endowed with some at least of the imaginative qualities of the poet, and his presentation of the Khedive's ideas is very likely as much a flight of fancy as his grotesque travesty of Arabi's position twelve years ago.

This is very severe on Mr. Blunt. The probability is that the nation will pay very little attention to Mr. Blunt's theories and statements of fact. It is evident that the British are in Egypt to stay until their work is done, and that if the restored Prime Minister, Riaz Pasha, does not conform to the British policy he will have to go. The present Secretary of Foreign Affairs seems determined to act upon the policy laid down by Lord Granville, which was thus expressed in his warning to the Egyptian Ministry: "That the responsibility which, for the time, rests on England obliges Her Majesty's Government to insist on the adoption of the policy which they recommend, and that it will be necessary that those ministers and governors who do not follow this course should cease to hold their offices."

AFTER THE BOOM.

Times in Australia are uncommonly hard. A period of inflation has been succeeded by one of extreme depression. All classes feel the pinch of the hard times, but they appear to press most severely on the workingmen. Not leng ago Australia was described as the workingman's paradise. Wages were high, hours were short, and the influence, political and social, exercised by the labor unions promised to become supreme. But the collapse which has thrown everything into confusion has divested the labor organizations of their importance. The boom period is thus described by a writer in the Melbourne Age:

In those days of roseate unreality, more furniture was imported than could possibly be used, more champagne than could be possibly consumed (at current rates), and more bargains entered into than could be carried out. Everyone seemed to think in those days of fabulous profits (on paper), that the proper thing was to buy something or speculate in something that they had not got and could not use, and it is not to be wondered at that the building trade caught the infection. Houses were run up on every suitable and unsuitable piece of ground near Melbourne, and in the city the streets grew under the hand of the adventurous contractor as corn in the night. The consequences need not be imagined, as they are so patent to-day. The various classes of workmen who depend on the building trades—laborers, plasterers, carpenters, plumbers, decorators and masons—flocked to Melbourne from every part of the world, and for a time revelled in the high wages and plentiful work that the times afforded. But to-day the collapse is felt with the bitterest severity amongst them, and, indeed, the more one mixes among the men out of work the more fully is it borne out that the building trade, so far as labor is concerned, is a dead letter. The number of houses unoccupied in Melbourne has been estimated at 11,000 (the correspondent of the London Times makes it 17,000). Whether this estimate is or is not too low, it is certain that the building operations are at a complete standstill, whilst there appears no reasonable prospect that there will be any revival in this direction for some considerable time to come.

The effect that this terrible depression has had on labor organizations is thus described by a prominent member of the Carpenters' Association:

"This union and kindred unions are practically non-existent—that is to say, most of the members have become non-financial, whilst all of them are obliged to take work at any wages that will keep body and soul together. The depression of course is the direct result of the boom, when men were led to come here in thousands, only to hang like a millstone round the neck of labor generally when the temporary briskness died out. As for a comparison of wages now and three years ago, it is almost impossible to make one, because men are willing to accept any wages now, while a few years ago they would not accept 10s or 12s a day. I see no hope of a revival of the trade for years to come, because there are enough houses empty in Melbourne and suburbs to accommodate 80,000 people. That hundreds of carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers and others are of my way of thinking is shown by the fact that they are leaving Melbourne in large numbers every week."

There are in Melbourne a very large number of men who are altogether out of work. So far from holding out for union wages, these men would be glad to get something to do, let the pay be ever so small, as one of the writer's informants said, "Every man takes what work he can get at what wages he can get."

No one seems able to suggest any relief for the men who are thus suffering for want of employment. A good many are looking to Government for work. The Australians, like the Canadians, have got into the habit of placing altogether too much dependence on Government. The unemployed men find that it is no use to go into the country for work for there are in the rural parts of the colony more hands than there is work for.

What a large proportion of the men will have to do is to go on the land and make a living by cultivating it. This is what the first settlers did: They, without being coddled by Governments, went into the wilderness with the view of making it available for the uses of man; they worked hard and endured many privations, but they made the country. Their descendants and successors, if they want the country to grow and prosper, must do likewise. The pioneer had to depend on himself, and these men, if they do not want to become loafers and paupers, must become in their turn pioneers. There is plenty of land in Australia but the population increases slowly. The reason of this is that the laboring class discourages immigration, and the workingmen instead of going into the country crowd into the towns. This is bad policy for all concerned. If there was a larger rural population there would be more work for the mechanics of the towns to do. In both Canada and Australia the newcomers must go upon the land. The towns are already over-peopled.

BALFOUR ON RESISTANCE.

A good deal has been said and a good deal more, no doubt, will be said about a passage in Mr. Balfour's Belfast speech, in which he is said to have encouraged armed resistance to the law. In order that our readers may be in a position to judge for themselves whether that passage was judicious or injudicious, politic or impolitic, we reproduce it as it is reported in the Times:

I do not come here to preach any doctrines of passive obedience or non-resistance. (Hear, hear.) You have had to fight for your liberties before. (A voice—"And will again.") (Cheers.) I pray God you may never have to fight for them again. (Hear, hear.) I do not believe that you ever will have to fight for them. (Cheers, and a voice—"We are ready.") I admit that the tyranny of majorities may be as bad as the tyranny of kings, and that the stupidity of majorities may be even greater than the stupidity of kings; and I will not say, and I do not think that any rational or sober man will say, that what is justifiable against a tyrannical king may not, under certain circumstances be justifiable against a tyrannical majority. (Loud and continued cheering and waving of handkerchiefs, those of the audience who were seated rising to their feet.) But, ladies and gentlemen, I hope and believe that this is the utterance of a mere abstract and academic proposition, and that the circumstances which would justify such a state of things never will arise in this country. I hope it and believe it. The resources of the Constitution are not yet exhausted. (Hear, hear.) You have behind you in the vindication of your most just rights a great majority of the English people (cheers), a majority which cannot but increase as their knowledge of this iniquitous proposal grows, and as they see more and more clearly your firm, your unalterable, but your peaceable determination to resist this measure to the last by every means in your power. (Cheers.) Who shall say that those great forces will fail? Who will venture to prophesy that this monstrous proposal will ever pass through all the safeguards which happily still exist in our Constitution for the prevention of unrighteous laws?

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE Times accuses us of having misrepresented what it said with respect to the rate of Dominion taxation. We did nothing of the kind. We quoted its own statement verbatim, and, after admitting its truth, as regards British Columbia, added what we then believed, and what we now believe, to be true,—namely, that it, no doubt inadvertently, misled its readers as to what the taxation of the Dominion is. The words it places within quotation marks are not to be found in the article on which it comments.

Our contemporary also manufactures a charge of untruthfulness out of these simple and inoffensive sentences:—"British Columbia being peculiarly situated pays very much more than the average. The excess, we believe, ought in justice to be returned to the Province in some shape or other. Why does not our contemporary aid us in advocating this?" What is there wrong or untruthful in the above? We meant exactly what we said, no more no less. If the Times has advocated refunding the excess of taxation to British Columbia, we have not seen the article or the paragraph in which it did so. It is not at all difficult to manufacture a charge for the express purpose of proving it to be false. What we said was the simple truth, and we did not say what the Times charges us with saying.

THE CITY.

Indian Offenders.

Indians and whiskey furnished the only business before the city police magistrate yesterday. The usual penalties were imposed.

Met at Denver.

Mr. H. Bornstein yesterday received a telegram from Mrs. Morris Moss, who is now in Denver, stating that she had there met her husband, who has for many months been missing from his home in Victoria.

Walter Milbey's Tricycle.

Advices have been received from the manufacturers that the tricycle purchased for the cripple lad, Walter Milbey, as a Christmas present from the children of Victoria, has left England and its arrival here may be looked for early in May.

In Collision.

A small rig containing two ladies came into collision with a hack at the corner of Pandora and Douglas streets last evening, resulting in a wheel of the former being knocked off and the occupants landed on the ground with such force that they were considerably shaken.

Found on the Beach.

The body of an Indian woman, in an advanced stage of decomposition, was found on the sea beach at Macaulay Point yesterday morning. The spot where the body lies is known as a favorite landing place for West Coast Indians, and it is supposed the woman perished there during the "cold snap."

Odd Fellows Anniversary.

The introduction of Odd Fellowship into America will be celebrated to-day, the Society's fourth anniversary. The event will be marked in this city by a social under the auspices of Columbia lodge. Next Sunday the four lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will have a church parade.

In Temperance Hall.

Every person wishing to spend an enjoyable evening will attend the entertainment at Temperance Hall this evening. The following ladies and gentlemen have promised to assist: Miss Wolf, Miss Duffy, Mrs. Walt, Miss Plovis, Mr. J. G. Brown, Mr. Russell, Mr. Watson, Mrs. Brownlie, Mrs. Agnew, Mrs. Collister and others.

The Celebration.

The printing committee in connection with the Queen's Birthday celebration, are to meet this afternoon at Mr. Chas. Heyward's office. It is the intention of the committee to get the posters and other announcements of the affair issued without delay, so that the celebration may have the full benefit of advertising in the Sound cities and on the Mainland generally.

Alive and Well.

The friends of Mr. J. C. T. McDonald, who was referred to in the Plumper's Pass correspondence of the COLONIST yesterday as "missing," will learn with pleasure that he is still in the flesh and in the best of health. He paid this office a visit yesterday afternoon in proof of the assertion that he was not lost in rowing from Oak bay to Mayne island. Rough weather prevented his making the Pass and forced him to run in to Moresby island and later to Sidney, in which two places he has spent the subsequent time.

To-Night's Attraction.

Miss Carolyn Gage, who appears at The Victoria this evening in "A Celebrated Case," has the advantage of a splendid wardrobe. Her dresses are said to rival those of Modjeska, and she is the happy possessor of a Juno-like form, which attracts the eye more than the dresses. Miss Gage presents another one of those cases, now so frequent, of a woman high in social circles, wealthy and accomplished, forsaking the frivolities of a social life for the more serious work on the stage out of pure love for the histrionic art.

The British Pacific.

A meeting of the provisional directors of the British Pacific Construction Company was held in the office of Messrs Bodwell & Irving yesterday afternoon. Mr. R. P. Rithet was elected chairman, and Mr. F. James, secretary, pro. tem. The following gentlemen were elected as directors of the company for the ensuing year: R. P. Rithet, Thos. Earle, Col. E. G. Prior, F. S. Barnard, Theo. Lubbe, C. A. Vernon, E. Crowe Baker, W. H. Ellis and Frank Bakeman. The meeting then adjourned until Thursday afternoon when the work of organization will be completed.

Well Attended.

The Sunday school room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was well filled last evening, when a concert was given under the auspices of the Band of Hope. The programme was well received, the various numbers appearing on it being as follows: Piano solo, M. Ross; comic song, F. Roberts; comic song, D. Muir; violin solo, Miss Brown; recitation, Miss Collins; piano solo, Miss E. McFarlane; song, H. Tiedmann; reading, Miss Armstrong; piano duet, Misses Fraser and Russel; song, Miss Hutcheson; violin solo, E. Wolff; and song, G. McCullock.

Unmanly Boys.

Somewhere in the district bounded by Yates street, Fernwood road, and Pandora street there are one or more boys who are unworthy of the name. The night before last, at about 7 o'clock, a little three-year-old toddler was got hold of and beaten until one of his eyes was closed and blackened. He was followed to the house where he lived, and the remonstrances of his mother were jeered at. Being asked who had struck him, he said, "Tham," and a boy with a name sounding something like that is being looked after. Anyhow, if the offender or offenders can be discovered the services of the magistrate will be invoked. The police, if they visited this neighborhood, might learn a good deal of stone throwing with slings as well as of newly sown and planted ground being trampled on. The ages of the offending boys would appear to run from twelve to fourteen years.

Mayne Island Summer Resort.

The return of the fine weather causes attion to be turned once more to the summer resorts, of which there are no lack within easy reach of Victoria. Prominent among these is Mayne Island, a place of unusual attraction by reason of its advantageous situation and the unrivalled scenery for which Plumper's Pass and vicinity is famous. The island, it is gratifying to note, appears to be entering upon an era of deserved prosperity. In the advertising columns of the COLONIST will be found evidence of business enterprise on the part of its people. The announcement of the re-opening for the tourist season of the Village Bay Summer Resort will be a welcome one, and the hostess, Mrs. Deacon, should have no lack of custom. A new business venture is the grocery store of Mr. F. G. Powell, on Mayne Island, which ought to prove a great convenience to those residing in that neighborhood, who doubtless will show their appreciation in the most practical mannner—by putting as much business as possible in the hands of Mr. Powell.

The City Council.

The Council will have a special meeting this morning, the business to come up being a number of by-laws already introduced. The meeting is called for 10 o'clock.

B. C. Southern Railway.

A special meeting of the shareholders of the British Columbia Southern Railway Company was held in this city yesterday for the purpose of authorizing an issue of bonds. Nothing of public interest transpired at the meeting.

Will Not Be Heard Till Thursday.

The argument by counsel in the case of Adams v. McBeath will not be heard until Thursday, on account of the absence of Mr. Justice Crease in Vancouver. His Lordship will be back to-night, and it is expected the case will be gone on with to-morrow.

In the Admiralty Court.

The case of the E. & N. Railway Co. v. the steamer Cutch will be tried in the Vice-Admiralty court to-day before Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, local judge in Admiralty. Hon. C. E. Pooley, Q.C., appears for the plaintiff, Messrs. Bodwell & Irving for defendant.

A Medical Ballot.

The result of the balloting for members of the Medical Council is the election of the following: G. L. Milne, Victoria; J. M. Lefevre, Vancouver; E. B. C. Hanington, Victoria; W. J. McGuigan, Vancouver; W. A. de Wolf Smith, New Westminster; J. C. Davie and J. A. Duncan, Victoria.

Sunday Shaving.

A movement is on foot to put an end to Sunday morning shaving, so far as the barbers' shops are concerned. The barbers are of the opinion that the public could very easily arrange so as to make the Sunday work unnecessary, and the proprietors will hold a meeting this evening to discuss the matter.

Looking for Mr. Bourchier.

Sergeant Walker, of the city police force, boarded the Empress of Japan during her brief stay off the outer wharf yesterday, and made a hurried though thorough examination of her cabins in search of Mr. Francis Bourchier, formerly of this city, and who was reported to have been at Vancouver a day or so ago. The Sergeant had in his possession a warrant charging misappropriation of funds.

Direct Route to the East.

The announcement is received from Spokane that a combination of business men has been formed there to induce the Canadian Pacific Company to build through Crow's Nest pass and connect with the Nelson and Fort Sheppard line, thus opening a short line to the East. The proposition laid before President Van Horne and endorsed, it is said, by Mr. D. C. Corbin, is to guarantee a tonnage of traffic for two or, if necessary, three years.

The Assault-at-Arms.

No. 2 Battery had a good turn-out last night for their drill in preparation for the grand assault-at-arms, and a couple of hours were well spent. To-night No. 3 Battery will parade for the same purpose. In consequence of the order to increase the strength of the batteries, the men are being requested each to induce one friend to join, and so fill up the ranks at once. None but the most desirable men will be admitted to the batteries, so that the service may not be objectionable to any good man.

The Cedar Hill Road Sidewalk.

A meeting poorly represented by those who in writing promised to contribute toward this walk was held on Saturday evening at Cedar Hill, when Rev Mr. Browne produced his receipts for $161.25, paid on the contractor's orders, and the only contributors from those who find the convenience of the sidewalk and the landed proprietors were three, viz: Messrs. Geo. McRae, $15; Dalby & Claxton, $20. and Postmaster Nichol, $10, thus leaving Mr. Browne at a personal loss of $116 25, besides having paid this last January.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The Wanderers Dispose of the Lady Membership Question—Billiard Match To-night.

At a well-attended meeting of the Wanderers' 'Cycling Club yesterday evening, it was decided to levy an assessment upon each gentleman member of $2, the sum so realized being estimated as sufficient to meet the running expenses of the current year. Ladies, by unanimous resolution, were exempt from the payment of dues, and later in the evening two 'cyclists of the gentler sex, with six gentlemen, were admitted to membership. On the consideration of the racing committee's report, the club decided to postpone the races arranged for next Saturday until one week from that date, May 6, in order to allow those entered time for training, the recent wet weather having seriously disturbed their arrangements. The race card was also altered by the reduction of the distance in the event for novices, from one mile to half a mile.

Captain Begg presented his formal report of the club runs for April, in which Messrs. T. W. Edwards and M. C. Reynard tie for "greatest mileage" honors. Next Saturday, the Beacon Hill races being off, the club will meet at 10:30 for a run to the Metchosin school-house—distance 16 miles—via the Happy Valley road.

The nomination of a Chief Consul to succeed Mr. C. A. Godson in the direction of affairs of the District, No. 10, resulted in the recommendation of Mr. C. H. Gibbons to the C. W. A., and Mr. Gibbons was also named as the Wanderers' delegate to the meeting of Provincial wheelmen, to be held in Vancouver next Saturday evening.

LACROSSE.

RESUMED PRACTICE.

The Victoria Lacrosse club resumed practice yesterday, the fine weather having put the grounds into condition and the players in good spirits. Regular practices will be had from this out, and it is expected that the team will be ready to meet all comers by the time the first match is on.

CRICKET.

JUNIORS VS. SENIORS.

The Victoria Cricket club are arranging a match between teams of members over thirty years, and under thirty years of age, respectively, to take place on the Caledonia grounds on Saturday afternoon. The grounds are in good shape for practice.

BILLIARDS.

A MATCH BETWEEN EXPERTS.

An interesting event is looked for to-night at the Hotel Victoria billiard room, when J. W. Cronn, of San Francisco, and Prof. Adam Kleser, of Wisconsin, are to play a 300-point match for a substantial stake. Mr. Cronn was formerly of Winnipeg and is well known throughout the West as a billiard expert. Prof. Kleser also is said to be a skilful cue handler. He has been very successful as a billiard instructor.

FENCING.

A CHANCE FOR JAGUAIMA.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Prof. Henry G. Brown, the English swordsman, and the Earl of Dunraven's private fencing master, who arrived here last Saturday, has issued an open challenge for a stake and purse in a competition of fencing, swordsmanship and boxing. Dave Holland will back him for $4,000.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

The Finance Committee Plan Their Work—Mayor Beaven Starts the List.

The finance committee in connection with the Queen's Birthday celebration had their first meeting last evening, Mayor Beaven in the chair, and C. Hayward, W. H. Ellis, J. Holland, B. Williams, P. Phillips and C. Jenkinson also present, together with Secretary Beaumont Boggs. The plan of collection was first discussed, and it was decided to divide the city for the purpose into four wards, thus:

West of Government street, from James Bay to Bay street.

South of Yates street and east of Government.

North of Yates street and east of Government.

James Bay and Victoria West, including the Gorge.

Members were assigned to each of the four wards to ask for subscriptions, and it was decided that the result of their canvass should be published in the newspapers, so that contributors may get the credit due to their public spirit. The subscription list was at once started by Mayor Beaven, who put his name down for $100.

B. Williams was appointed to represent the finance committee on the band committee.

At the suggestion of the Mayor, the secretary was requested to communicate with the officers of the Navy, Lieut. Col. Holmes, D.A.G., and Lieut. Col. Prior, M.P., commanding the B.C.G.A, to ascertain if it be possible to have a military review on Beacon Hill on May 23.

The committee adjourned to meet again on Wednesday evening next at eight o'clock.

Monday Evening's Concert.

The concert in the Philharmonic hall on Monday evening was not, as announced, under the auspices of St. Barnabas church, but originated with Miss Lipscomb, who was assisted by the following ladies and gentlemen, whose parts were most artistically rendered, as testified by the applause of a select and appreciative audience. The names are:

Miss Devereux as "Juliette."

Miss Lipscomb as "The Gardener's Daughter."

Miss L. Lipscomb as "The Bailiff's Daughter."

Mr. W. Fisher as "The Squire's Son."

Mr. C. C. Pemberton as "An Artist."

Mr. Aspland as "The King" in "Sing a Song of Sixpence," and Messrs. Bertley and Haywood as pages.

Mrs. Temple's rendering of the song selected was highly appreciated, as was also Mr. Foulke's comic song, which was encored. Mr. Nash, as violinist, gave a very artistic and finished performance, and Mr. Keating deserves great praise for his selection on the mandolin. Mr. Aspland sang with considerable vigor and taste. The young ladies of the Girls' Friendly Society filled up a gap and furnished an additional attraction. Several of those who were present have expressed a desire that a second performance should be given, and this is the more desirable as the receipts just covered expenses, and it is to be hoped that the next performance will draw a crowded house.—COM.

B. C. AT CHICAGO.

Something About the Display at the World's Fair—Not All in Position.

Recent advices from Chicago note that British Columbia has 1200 feet of floor space in the Mines Building, her exhibit being in a direct line from the main entrance. With the exhibit of the product of the British mines it will thus be the first to attract attention. A leading feature is a pyramid of gold bricks, each brick having a representative value of $30,000, there being sufficient bricks to make the total representative value $50,000,000, the output of the B. C. mines.

The large coal exhibits are expected to be the finest of the kind in the building. Other mineral specimens give a good idea of the wealth of this Pacific province. The fruit specimens which have been in cold storage in Chicago, will make a very presentable table in the horticultural building, but six hundred jars of preserved fruit have yet to come and so has the forestry exhibit, with the exception of two large blocks which came with the mineral exhibit. However, Commissioner Law says that British Columbia is as well off in the arrival of its exhibits as other exhibitors, and a great deal better than some.

GOLD EXCITEMENT.

The Richest Strike Made In Oregon Since '52—People Flocking to the Scene.

PORTLAND, O., April 25.—A special from Central Point says the richest gold strikes in Southern Oregon since the days of '52 were made within two miles of this place last week. The entire country is wild with excitement. If the present exit to the hills continues the town will be deserted before the end of the week. Gold is being taken out in fabulous quantities. Within two hours this morning more than $500 in coarse gold were taken from the ledge. This mine is in the famous Willow gold district, which has a gold-producing history dating back to 1852. It is estimated that a million dollars are in sight in that district to-day.

Strike Ended.

OMAHA, Neb., April 25.—All the strikers on the line of the Union Pacific railway resumed work this morning, the strike being over.

Mr. S. G. Derry

Of Providence, R. I.,

Widely known as proprietor of Derry's Waterproof Harness Oil, tells below of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day. "Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Thousands of Dollars

Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend from personal experience." S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford street, Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

THE NAVY.

"Britannia Rules the Waves" and Determined to Do So in the Future.

Important Additions to the Fleet—Details of Some of Them.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 25.—Information comes from England regarding the great additions being made to the Imperial navy. It is understood that many ships are being built, but it is not known to what extent the British navy would be strengthened this year. The admiralty has decided that at any rate within the next twelve months the following new ships are to be completed and passed into the fleet reserve as ready for sea:

Five first-class battleships—The Empress of India, Repulse, Ramilies, Resolution and Royal Oak, each with a displacement of 14,150 tons; speed of 17.5 knots, with armament consisting of four 13.5-inch breech-loading guns; ten 6-inch and twenty-eight smaller quick-firing guns, besides machine guns and torpedo tubes.

Two other first-class battleships—The Enturion and Harfleur, with displacement of 10,500 tons; engines of 13,000 horse-power and speed at 18 25 knots, and heavy armaments.

Six first-class protected cruisers—the Crescent, Endymion, St. George, Gibraltar, Crepton and Theseus, of 12,000 horse power each, and speed over 19 knots and an armament of two 9.2-inch breech-loading guns, ten 6-inch and various quick-firing and machine guns.

Three second-class protected cruisers—the Cambria, Artrasa and Bonaventura, each of 9,000 horse power; speed of 20 knots; with armament of two [illegible] 5 Hotchkiss and machine guns, 6-inch and [illegible] and torpedo tubes.

Ten first-class torpedo gunboats—the Antelope. Dryad, Hazard, Hebe, Leda, Onyx, Reward, Speedy, Jasour and Niger. The Speedy will have engines capable of developing 4,500 horse power, giving a speed of 20.25 knots. The remainder will each be of 3,500 horse power and of 19.25 knots.

Last year two first-class battleships, four first-class cruisers and a number of smaller vessels were added to the fleet reserve, while during the previous year only one first-class battleship, one first-class cruiser and several smaller vessels were completed ready for service.

THE ULSTER DEMONSTRATION.

The following is part of the London Times' description of the monster demonstration made in Belfast when the Right Hon. Mr. Balfour visited that city. It gives the reader a lively idea of the way in which Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule is regarded by a very large proportion of the population of Ulster:

Punctually at half-past 11 the train conveying Mr. Balfour and the other guests of Lord Londonderry was seen approaching the platform, and as it ran alongside, the continuous detonation of fog-signals almost drowned the cheering of the little crowd within the reserved platform. Among that crowd there was a positive rush for the doors of the saloon carriage—Lord Mayor and aldermen and town councillors jostled one another as eagerly as if they had been schoolboys, and it was apparent from the expression of Mr. Balfour's face that he entered thoroughly into the spirit of the occasion. With him were the other guests of Lord Londonderry. Outside the station there was a scene of indescribable enthusiasm. The municipal authorities, harbor commissioners, and like personages drove away first amid the plaudits of the crowd; but the excitement rose to its highest point when Mr. Balfour, accompanied by Lord Londonderry, came out of the station, and entered the carriage provided for him. There were next to no police, save in the immediate vicinity of the carriage, and the eager crowd, mixed here and there with a constable in plain clothes and many easily-detected detectives, thronged round the carriage, insisting on shaking hands with Mr. Balfour, much as a Dublin crowd insisted on kissing the hand of Cardinal Logue when he returned from Rome not long ago. From this point to the Linen hall the progress of Mr. Balfour was one long triumph, albeit it was made with some difficulty. The police did little or nothing to keep the road clear, and placed, apparently, the most implicit confidence in that respect for law and order for which the people of Ulster have a just reputation. Hence came it that the carriage, with a whole string of shouting men attached to it, could only proceed at walking pace until it reached the bridge across the river, and the trot which was attempted at this point had subsided into a walk almost before the Memorial was reached. The carriage, indeed, was compelled to plough its way through the people.

During all this time I was with it, and I can testify that there was not a word said in favor of Home Rule, even by a drunkard, while some of the language used against it was of such a character as would shock the sensibilities of a cultured Gladstonian. But, as the Bishop of Derry said in Dublin the other day, it was necessary to remember that these opponents of Home Rule are workmen, who call a spade a spade. Order was preserved almost entirely by the officials of Unionist clubs and of Orange lodges, and in York street, where the crowd was immense, the success of the efforts of these officials was extremely noteworthy. In this same York street Mr. Balfour met with a veritable triumph, which was repeated when he reached the magnificent thoroughfare known as Royal avenue. Here his reception was really immense. In our London demonstrations the sidewalks are crowded, but police and military keep the roadway clear. In Belfast to-day the whole street was crowded, and as one looked down upon it from the head of the procession it seemed literally impossible that the crowd could divide sufficiently to let the procession go on. But the crowd did so divide, and as Mr. Balfour passed, acknowledging the greeting which he received, there were such stentorian shouts and there was such waving of innumerable handkerchiefs from the windows and balconies and from the very roofs of houses as I have not seen equalled in London, even on the occasion of Her Majesty's jubilee. Another street in a right line with Royal avenue gave Mr. Balfour an equally royal welcome. At the end of that street stood the grand stand, draped in scarlet, and bearing the legend, "One God, one Country, and one Empire," from which he was to review the political troops as they marched past in peaceful array.

The scene which followed was one which Englishmen can scarcely realize. The platform held some 800 people, and the competition for seats had been intense. In the centre of it was a reserved space occupied by the more distinguished visitors, amongst whom were some seventy peers and members of Parliament, with many ladies of distinction. The stream which flowed before Mr. Balfour's eyes, to his manifest delight, was for the most part a stream of hard-headed workingmen, led by such men as the Earl of Erne, Colonel Saunderson, Sir W. Ewart, and Mr. Thomas Sinclair, whom the northern Irishman delight to honor for their sterling worth. It was just after half-past twelve when the march past began. The environment was unique. From the platform alone one could see packed between the houses of that noble street, which houses each held at the least 50 spectators, a crowd estimated by military men, who are the best of judges in this way, to amount to at least 80,000 men and women. Handkerchiefs waved from hundreds of windows, and a wealth of flags met the eye. Through the midst of that huge crowd came first the Belfast Harbor Commissioners, the Water Commissioners, the Board of Guardians, provincial corporate bodies, and provincial boards of guardians. Then came the booming of the Protestant drum ushering in the numerous representatives of Trinity College, Dublin, in cap and gown, and other Irish universities, to say nothing of those which were Scotch. They were a fine body of men, representing intellect, enthusiasm, and last, but not least, humor. At the head of their body an official copy of the Home Rule bill, torn to tatters, was carried upon a pole. The cheers of platform and crowd were drowned in Homeric laughter when, immediately under the grand stand a match was applied to the document and it was burned amidst roars of applause. This was a happy hit. After the University men came Scottish Unionist clubs, accompanied, as was but proper, by pipers; but even the bagpipers could not thrust their sound through the roar of the populace, and for all that was audible the pipers might just as well have acted upon the principle of Thackeray's substitute for the trombone player, who went through the motions but made no noise. Then came the Belfast Unionist clubs.

I observed these clubs with some care, and it was noticeable that, while the mass of their numbers were clearly professional men—indeed, I know that many of them are such—they were of alert and soldier-like bearing. One in particular stands 6 feet 3 inches in his stockings, and looked every inch an officer. After these came an endless stream of Rechabites with gilded banners shining in the sun. Each wore a great white sash, and at a given signal each waved a white handkerchief until the impression produced was that of dark waves breaking into foam. Next came Free Gardeners with many banners, Shepherds who raised their crooks in unison, Odd Fellows and young men's associations of various kinds. Last came the great Orange contingent, at the head of which, in a wagonette, were the Bishop of Clogher, Lord Erne, Colonel Saunderson and Dr. Kane. The reception given to this carriage was something quite out of the common, populace and platform cheering again and again; Mr. Balfour waved his hat enthusiastically and smiled with delight, and Colonel Saunderson stood upright and returned the salute. After the carriage came a never-ending train of Orangemen, each lodge being accompanied by its drum and fife band shrieking forth "Garryowen," "Boyne Water," "The Protestant Boys," or some other patriotic song. Above all the Protestant drum boomed and thundered, the drummers appearing to be carried away by a species of musical ecstacy, and this went on for many hours.

A CARDINAL'S VIEWS.

The following passage is from the reply made by Cardinal Vaughan to an address of welcome presented to him by the Roman Catholic clergy and laity of England:

Our other duty is to those without—that is, to the great mass of the English people. They are face to face with all the dangers belonging to the great social problem. The forces of evil and of disorder are busily at work, certainly abroad, and probably at home. The genesis of this is plain. For centuries the leisured and wealthy classes grew up selfish and neglectful of the wants of those below them; for centuries the Church was persecuted and pillaged in one country and asleep in another. Meanwhile, the working population increased and multiplied beyond measure, until it has now become master of the whole situation, and can no longer be accounted as a quantite negligeable. History has not been written in vain. The wealthier sections of English society realize that the destruction of the great Roman Empire was brought about by the unspeakable indifference, corruption, and selfishness of the dominant classes. They understand that the pride, the exclusiveness, the luxury of the rich and the worldliness and wealth of the clergy in France in the last century superinduced the outbreak of the Revolution, which has flooded Europe with false principles, and is yet far from having spent its destructive force. England, therefore, please God, will follow in the wake neither of ancient Rome nor of modern France. But she has yet much to learn, though there is probably no country in the world where the rich are more active in good works or more generous than in England, or where labor and self-sacrifice go more frequently hand in hand with honor and nobility. (Cheers.) This is not all that is needed. To reform the condition of the masses something more is required than good will and princely generosity among the richer classes, the doubtful theories of the science of political economy, or the confiscation of the property of one class for the benefit of another; something more than technical and board school education, temperance legislation, trade unionism, or whatever other remedy modern genius may invent. Even natural philanthropy added to the above is incompetent to deal effectually with the anti-Christian Socialism that has been imported from Germany and France. Christianity alone can exorcise and expel this devil. (Cheers.) The guiding mind and master hand in the imperative task of social reformation which is before the English people must be that of Christ Himself.

MARINE MOVEMENTS.

The Case of the "Romulus" Still Undecided—"Empress of Japan" Off for the Orient.

Equipment of the "Quadra" Augmented—Launch Postponed Owing to Low Water.

The steamship Empress of Japan sailed for Yokohama at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, having 1,500 tons of cargo and a large number of passengers on board. Of the latter she had 110 Chinese, fifteen from Victoria, and the following saloon passengers, including also several from this city: J. R. Anton, London; Miss Anderson, New York; H. J. Barclay, England; T. M. Boyd, China; A. E. Campbell, London; Mr. and Mrs. T. England, Miss England and Master England, China; F. Fairhurst, San Francisco; A. R. A. Heath, Toronto; Miss Howard, New York; Miss Kelly, London; Miss Kennedy, New York; A. C. King, New York; Mr. Legburn, Montreal; E. C. Lufkin, Lima, Ohio; C. Loonen, Paris; Miss Magill, London; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Marsh, New York; W. A. Morling, China; Rev. J. Omai, Liverpool; Sir William and Lady Plowden, England; Miss Simmons, New York; Stewart Smith, China; C. Tooney, San Francisco, and Mrs S. J. Campbell and Donald Campbell, Victoria.

A LAUNCH FOR THE QUADRA.

The Dominion steamer Quadra, which is noted for its many conveniences, has had still another added in the way of a fine steam launch, which has only been completed within the past few days. The launch machinery was brought out from England on the Quadra, is of the finest make, and sufficiently powerful to obtain a speed of nine knots an hour. The launch will from this out occupy a place on the Quadra's deck, and will be used in many ways in connection with that vessel's work. The little craft's machinery was put in position by Chief Engineer Gordon Grant and his staff.

THE ROMULUS CASE.

It is not yet definitely known whether or not the steamship Romulus, now in dock, will be obliged to vacate for H. M. S. Champion, but it is thought probable instructions will be received for the Romulus to remain where she is, and instead of the Champion going North, the Garnet take her place. In this event the Romulus would not be placed in such an awkward position as if she has to leave dock, for at present there are several bad holes in her bottom, which in case of her being floated would cause any amount of trouble.

FOR VICTORIA.

The steamer Walla Walla, which sailed from San Francisco for Victoria yesterday, has the following passengers for this city: Wm. Garcelone, Wm. Springer, H. Clive, wife and child, Miss Nellie Marston and Miss Freeman.

MARINE NOTES.

The German bark Heinrich, from Callao, arrived in the Royal Roads in tow of the tug Lorne yesterday morning. The Heinrich is in ballast and bound for Vancouver to load lumber at the Hastings mill for the West Coast.

Steamer Maude sailed for the North last evening with a big load of freight and the following passengers: G. Milne, C. Manhew, A. Schant, H. M. Price and D. Kean.

The six new Mackinaw boats and fourteen canoes to be used in connection with the Alaska Boundary Commission expedition arrived from Ontario on the Islander last evening.

Mr. S. L. Kelly's new steam schooner was not launched yesterday morning on account of the lowness of the tide.

The C. P. N. steamer Rainbow arrived down from the Mainland last evening to take the place of the Maude, while the latter is away on her Northern trip.

The steamship Montserrat and the ships Louis Walsh and Willie Rosenfeld cleared at San Francisco for Nanaimo yesterday.

Tug Mystery left for Clayoquot Sound last evening with salt for the salmon fishing station there.

The steamer Penticton has commenced running between Okanagan Landing and Penticton.

The steam collier Grandholm arrived at San Francisco from Nanaimo yesterday.

H.M.S. Garnet returned from target practice in the Straits yesterday.

When Improperly Fed, Men and Women Lose Health and Strength!

How About the Baby?

In order to properly sustain life from day to day, the ordinary man or woman requires a nourishing and health-giving diet. Foods used that have no building-up elements in them are of little value; and if used for any length of time, it will be seen that the user is rapidly losing flesh, strength and health.

If such results are produced in adults when improperly fed, how will it fare with baby who is daily fed with poorly prepared and often dangerous artificial foods? the result is terrible to contemplate; it is sufficient to make strong ones shudder. This improper feeding of infants goes on from day to day, and there are hundreds and thousands of mothers—loving mothers too—who are ignorantly using foods, that bring on trouble, disease and death. The little infant requires food that is pure, nourishing and life-giving, if its life if to be saved. Experience has demonstrated that Lactated Food excels all others for the proper nourishment and strengthening of babies and young children. Lactated Food in the past has proved to be vastly superior to any other preparation ever heard of for the making of healthy flesh, bone and muscle. Babies who are fed on it are never sick, cross or peevish; they grow up bright, cheerful and happy, and gladden the mothers who watch over them.

Very Much So.

They were talking about a man whom they had both known in the west.

"He was very even tempered."

"I should say so."

"Wonderfully quiet and collected."

"Yes. I was there when it happened, and 'quiet and collected' are the very words for it."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, didn't you know about it? He was one of the men that tried to thaw out dynamite."—Washington Star.

A Dream.

"Well, it beats Sam Hill to see that hen a-sittin on that lump o' coal in that flowerpot. I've druv her off some eight or ten times, but she allers manages to git back ag'in.

"By gosh! Supposin she should hatch a ton o' coal!"—Life.

Some Pig Stories.

In the south of England the pig is the family pet and pride, and in Hampshire especially his position is as important as that of "the gintleman that pays the rint" of Irish cottages. A woman in that county who was dying, after a long illness, expressed her mournful regrets that she had never seen the present pig and added that if her husband had known in time how much she wished it he would have carried it up to her bed chamber. Now, however, it was too large and heavy.

Indeed the local mind seems to be engaged in constant speculation upon this useful animal. A clergyman who wondered whether his flock understood the long words of his sermon asked one of them if he knew what was meant by "predestination."

"Well, sir," returned the laborer, "I believe it's something about the innards of a pig."

One old man is fond of describing his "missus" as he first saw her at her confirmation in a great cathedral.

"And did you get acquainted with her at once and ask her to marry you?" was the question.

"No, do," said he. "I waited till I had two pigs in my sty, and then, sir, I knew I was a match for any woman!"—Youth's Companion.

New to Her.

A Bangor family recently engaged a cook who was quite an artist with the kitchen utensils and the raw material at her disposal, although she was not on good terms with the cookbooks, being unable to read. She identified canned goods, for instance, by the pictures on the can labels. But once at least this did not work, and the result was amusing. A can of desiccated cocoanut was brought to the house by the groceryman, and it bore the well known trademark cut of the monkey dallying with a cocoanut. When her gaze fell upon that can, she was astounded. "Oh, lor'!" she ejaculated, "I have seen canned corn, canned peaches and most everything canned, but bless me if this ain't the first time I ever saw any canned monkey!"—Lewiston Journal.

His Difficulty.

At the grocery store in Potato Hollow the big eater of Spoon River Valley had just devoured three dozen raw eggs within the time specified in the wager and was looking none the worse for the indulgence.

"Don't you ever experience any trouble from such an enormous feed as that?" inquired a curious spectator.

"No, sir," replied the eminent gastronomer, edging toward the cracker barrel. "The only trouble I ever exper'ence is gittin somebody to furnish the aigs."—Chicago Tribune.

Two Extremes.

Employment Agent—What was the matter with your last place?

Domestic—The couple had only been married a month, an I cudn't stand th' lovemakin.

Agent—Well, here's a chance in a house where the couple have been married 10 years.

Domestic—That's too long. I likes peace an quiet.—New York Weekly.

Worked Both Ways.

She—Does the fact that I have money make any difference to you, dearest?

He—Of course it does, my own. It is such a comfort to know that if I should die you would be provided for.

She—But suppose I should die?

He—Then I would be provided for.—Life.

No Others Like It.

"What is the shortest day in the year?" asked the professor.

"The day before my allowance gets here," answered the youth with expensive habits.—Washington Star.

The Man.

Penelope—Does he write poems?

Perdita—No, I don't believe he ever wrote anything but a check in his life.

Penelope—Accept him.—Vogue.

Considerate.

Old Skinflint—I believe, Mr. Smith, that you commence today the thirty-first year of your connection with the house.

Smith (in a flurry of expectation)—It is very kind of you to remember it, sir. I made the first entry on your books on Easter Tuesday, 1863—just 30 years ago.

Old Skinflint—Exactly. Now, Mr. Smith, we are about to reduce the number of our clerks, but in consideration of your long and efficient term of service I have decided, in consultation with my partners, to waive our right to discharge you, and you will be permitted to resign. You may use the office paper. No, thanks, Smith—I will not permit it. Now go, and God bless you!—Truth.

CLEVELAND ON FINANCE.

The Parity Between Gold and Silver to Be Preserved—The Country's Credit Unimpaired.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—To a representative of the United press the President said last night: "The inclination on the part of the public to accept newspaper reports concerning the intentions of those charged with the management of our national finances seems to justify my emphatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes, except in gold, has at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the secretary of the treasury or any other member of the present administration. The President and his cabinet are absolutely harmonious in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to maintain the public credit, to keep the public faith and to preserve the parity between gold and silver and between all the financial obligations of the government.

"While the law of 1890 forcing the purchase of a fixed amount of silver every month provides that the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion may redeem in either gold or silver the treasury notes given in payment of silver purchases, yet the declaration of the policy of the Government to maintain the parity between the two metals seems so clearly to regulate this discretion as to dictate their redemption in gold. Of course perplexity and difficulties have grown out of an unfortunate financial policy which we found in vogue, and embarrassments have arisen from ill-advised financial legislation confronting us at every turn, but with a cheerful confidence among the people and a patriotic disposition to co-operate, the threatened dangers will be averted, pending a return to a better financial plan. The strong credit of the country is still unimpaired, and the good sense of our people, which has never failed in time of need, is at hand to save us from disaster."

THE BEST REMEDY.

DEAR SIRS,—I was greatly troubled with weakness, loss of appetite, restlessness and sleeplessness, and found B. B. B. the most strengthening and beneficial medicine I have taken.

WONDER IN WELLAND!

A Representative Farmer Speaks.

MR. C. C. HAUN.

The following remarkable facts are fully certified to as being undeniably correct in every particular. Mr. Haun is well known in the vicinity, having resided here over fifty years, and is highly respected as a man of the strictest honor, whose word is as good as his bond.

As will be seen from his letter, four physicians had attended him, and it was only after he had given up hope of cure that he decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters on the recommendation of a neighbor who had been cured of a similar disease by its use. Mr. Haun writes as follows:

DEAR SIRS,—I think I have been one of the worst sufferers you have yet heard of, having been six years in the hands of four of our best doctors without obtaining permanent relief, but continually growing worse, until almost beyond hope of recovery, I tried your Bitters and got relief in a few days. Every organ of my body was deranged, the liver enlarged, hardened and torpid, the heart and digestive organs seriously deranged, a large abscess in my back, followed by paralysis of the right leg, in fact the lower half of my body was entirely useless. After using Burdock Blood Bitters for a few days the abscess burst, discharging fully five quarts of pus in two hours. I felt as if I had received a shock from a powerful battery. My recovery after this was steady and the cure permanent, seeing that for the four years since I have had as good health as ever I had. I still take an occasional bottle, not that I need it but because I wish to keep my system in perfect working order. I can think of no more remarkable case than what I have myself passed through, and no words can express my thankfulness for such perfect recovery.

C. C. HAUN,
Welland P.O.

In this connection the following letter from T. Cumines, Esq., a leading druggist of Welland, Ont., speaks for itself:

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been personally acquainted with Mr. C. C. Haun for the last 20 years, and have always found him a very reliable man. You may place the utmost confidence in anything he says with regard to your medicine. He has on many occasions within the last four years told me that it was marvellous the way the Burdock Blood Bitters had cured him, and that he now felt as able to do a day's work as he ever felt in his life. Although quite well he still takes some B. B. B. occasionally, as he says, to keep him in perfect health.

Yours truly,
THOMAS CUMINES,
Welland, Ont.

The steadily increasing sale of B. B. B., the length of time it has been before the people, and the fact that it cures to stay cured, attest the sterling merit of this monarch of medicines, the people's favorite blood purifier, tonic and regulator.

CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE

Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was literally untrue, and he regretted to say that it had been sworn to.—Times, July 13 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE IS THE BEST AND MOST CERTAIN REMEDY IN COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CONSUMPTION, NEURALGIA RHEUMATISM, &c.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE—The Right Hon. Earl RUSSELL communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is prescribed by scores of orthodox practitioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not "supply a want and fill a place."—Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1865.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is a certain cure for Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, &c.

CAUTION—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne," on the stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle. Sole manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russell St., London. Sold at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. ap28

"CLEAN UP."

TO THE EDITOR,—I have recently read the COLONIST and the Home Journal "Clean Up" articles. The contributor of the latter was good enough to reflect upon my services in connection with the sanitary department, but as to these my records will speak for themselves authentically and officially. I have done my duty honestly and conscientiously, and have no reason to look back with regret upon my connection with sanitary matters. Who the writer of the letter in question is I have but a suspicion, which is the more well founded when I consider the incidents narrated.

Now, sir, I assure you from my experience that there is more room for the work of a sanitary inspection outside than inside Chinatown. I can lay my hands on places where there are stagnant cess-pools in white quarters tenfold worse than those of the overcrowded sleeping apartments of the Celestial quarter, but no sanitary officer looks after them. Why not? Because the Chinese are safe game. Before the present sanitary officer ever got into position, Chinatown had been explored, its lanes and alleys cleaned, and its sewerage system perfected, so far as time would allow. I like to see a man fairly treated, and when out of office at least not "downed," that others may be elevated for his faithful, if to some degree inefficient, services.

TROUBLES IN HULL.

Fire at the Docks Supposed to Have Been Started by the Strikers.

Rioters Arrested After a Long and Stubborn Fight With the Police.

LONDON, April 24.—Ten acres of timber at the Victoria dock in Hull were ablaze last night. The loss will be more than £10,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by striking dockers. The fire extended from the timber yard and threatened to destroy the warehouse near by. The Citadel hotel has been burned. All the telegraph wires in the district are down and the railway irons have been melted. The marines and sailors from the two gunboats anchored in the roads are helping the firemen. The timber yard in which the fire was set is owned by the Wade company, who employ non-union men. A large section of the spectators made no concealment of their delight at the progress of the fire. They threw stones and other missiles at the soldiers and police who were helping to extinguish the flames. Some went so far as to cut the hose. At last reports a detachment of dragoons protected those who were fighting the fire. The sparks flew in showers as far as half a mile from the scene of the fire, causing great anxiety to the proprietors of neighboring oil mills.

The Wade company, proprietors of the burned timber yard, had headed the signers of a circular, giving notice to striking deal carriers that unless they resumed work their places would be filled with other men. All of the company's timber was consumed by the fire. Much other timber is threatened with destruction. The total value of the timber and other property now in danger is £1,000,000. Three other fires were started by incendiaries in Hull this evening. All were discovered before they got headway and were extinguished. Delegates from 20 or 25 of the most powerful workingmen's unions in London and the provinces, met in secret session in this city to consider what measures they should adopt in regard to the Hull strikers. John Burns, Keir Hardie, Joseph Havelock Wilson, all members of Parliament, and the labor agitators, McCarthy and Sproat, addressed the delegates. It was resolved that a general strike of waterside workers in Great Britain would be unadvisable at present.

The police in Hull arrested a drunken docker between 11 and 12 o'clock. A mob of strikers stopped them on their way to the station. The police fought them off and sent for reinforcements. The number of strikers swelled rapidly, and when the police reinforcements arrived more than 2,000 men had gathered armed with stones, clubs and a few revolvers. The police drew their batons and clubbed right and left and divided the mob so that the three officers with their prisoner could proceed to the station. After the drunken striker had been removed the rioters charged the police repeatedly. They were forced back by hand to hand fighting, were divided, and were driven into the side streets, where they rallied again to the attack. More police were called out and more strikers were attracted by the uproar.

The wounded men on both sides were carried away, and the strikers obtained a new supply of boathooks, cudgels and split planks. The police forced the men back gradually into the immediate neighborhood of the docks. The whole district was in an uproar. The struggle was carried into every street and alleyway. The dockers who had gone to bed hurried half-dressed from their house to join in the fight. Windows were smashed and doors were battered down. At the Drypool dock the mob tried to storm the steamer Righi. Fifty police defended it for 40 minutes, and then, with the aid of 30 more police, put the rioters to flight. Only six strikers were arrested.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Carolina Evictions.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 25.—The troops arrived at James City last night. A dispatch from Newburne says: The First Regiment with about 400 equipped men has arrived. They have three heavy guns, and General Cameron is in command. The companies are now encamped on the fair grounds. Governor Carr and staff are here, while Brig.-General Cotton, Col. Woods, Lieut.-Colonel Bogart and Major Roman are all with their regiments. To-day the eviction of the defiant James City tenants will begin in earnest. The naval reserves, who recently organized a command here, will be placed under orders of the general commanding. On the arrival of the train several leading colored men from Goldsboro and Kingston went over to the seat of war and had a conference with the 3,000 negroes, all of whom insist that the ejectments shall be made by the proper authorities.

A Minister to Brazil.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—Among the appointments announced to-day at the White House is that of Thomas F. Thompson, of California, to be minister to Brazil.

Burned to Death.

ABERDEEN, Miss., April 25.—On the farm of N. Henea, near here, a colored tenant named Edwards and his wife left their three young children in the house alone and went to work. During their absence the house caught fire and burned down. The children perished.

America's Tree.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The place of honor in the central rotunda in the government building at the World's Fair has been given to the sequoia gigantea, or big California tree, which represents, as no other single tree could do, the natural resources of this country, and the scope of natural forestry long before the advent of Columbus. This section of the tree is named "General Noble," in honor of the late Secretary of the interior. The total cost of cutting, shipping and installing it in the government building was $10,475 87. It took eleven cars to bring it to Chicago. As the section of the trunk now stands it is almost thirty feet high. It is protected all around by a light ornamental railing. A door has been cut in the immense trunk, and as the greater part of the interior is hollow, there are other exhibits inside, which will be lighted up with incandescent lamps.

Brutal Constabulary.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Nassau advices under date of April 17 say: "For a month or so the people have complained of the brutality of the Bahamas constabulary. So incensed were the people of Grantstown that on the night of April 1 they burned the guard room, beat the constabulary and stoned Capt. Learmouth. To-day a constable had his brains beaten out in the center of the city of Nassau. When the rest of the force heard of the outrage they rushed out with fixed bayonets, clearing the streets and wounding several people. An attack of the people from Grantstown is expected momentarily. The force had to be kept in the barracks, for if they venture out of the city they will surely be murdered.

Battles With Indians.

DENVER, April 24.—Advices from Green river, Utah, tell of a scrimmage between cowboys employed by Knowles & Co., and Navajo Indians, in which two cowboys were injured. Kid Johnson, the leader of the cowboys, is badly wounded and will probably die. The Indians had from time to time raided the herds and taken many head of cattle to the reservation, and the cowboys finally agreed to stop this plunder by meeting and fighting the Indians. The battle resulted as above. Another fight occurred on April 9, between a prospector named Connell and several Indians at a place near Dirty Devil, on the way to Henry mountains, in which two Indians were killed. Connell is said to have sold whiskey to Indians and they imbibed too much of it and became hostile.

Russian Treaty Denounced.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Central Music hall was packed to the doors yesterday by an enthusiastic audience which had gathered to denounce the Russian treaty. The speakers were bold in their remarks in denouncing the treaty as a fugitive slave law, and the President and Senate of the United States as policemen for the Czar. Among the speakers were Circuit Court Judge Tuley and Bishop Fallows. It was decided to request the Government to "undo the great disgrace it had put upon the American nation and at once abrogate this infamous treaty."

A Careless Marshal.

PORTLAND, April 25.—Deputy U. S. Marshal David W. West was released from the county jail this morning on pardon granted by Governor Pender, and left on the afternoon train for home. He said he would be more careful in serving his papers in future. Ah Louie, who was jointly indicted and convicted with West, was not included in the pardon, and is still confined in jail.

Convention of Metal Workers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 25.—The tin, sheet iron and cornice workers' association began their fifth annual session here this morning. Mayor Walbridge delivered the address of welcome, after which President Schwab of Memphis, read the annual report.

Roasted in a Smelter.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 25.—Some charred and partially incinerated bones, all that remain of the body of John Sandberg, an employe of the Boston and Montana smelter, have been taken out of the big inclining flue connecting with the 300-foot smoke stack at the copper works. Sunday night the fires in the smelter were extinguished in order to search for the remains of the ill-fated furnaceman, who disappeared mysteriously on April 3. When last seen he went into one of the rotary roasters from which the fire had been drawn intending to remove the slag from its side. It seems that he was slightly intoxicated when he went into the furnace. The supposition is that he fell asleep and on waking was bewildered, so that instead of leaving the furnace by the way he entered he crawled through the intake and fell into the flues. There he must have been instantly asphyxiated. A knife found near the bones was identified as belonging to Sandberg.

Clan-Na-Gaels' Wants.

CHICAGO, April 23.—A secret meeting of the Northwestern council of the Clan-na-Gael was held at the resident of a prominent nationalist in this city to-day to discuss the Home Rule bill and amnesty for the Irish political prisoners. The council is composed of representatives of branches in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the two Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Montana and Washington. The result of their deliberations was embodied in the following, which was forwarded to the branches and ordered published:

"Brothers: At this critical stage of the movement for Ireland's freedom we cannot afford to allow the position of our organization to be misrepresented or misunderstood. We have never assumed to be more than friends and allies of our brothers at home, and have always contended for the right of the people of Ireland to decide for themselves as to the settlement. We therefore wish the people of Ireland success in their efforts to so amend the Home Rule bill as to make it entirely satisfactory, or at least the basis from which a perfect system of self-government may in time be developed. On the question of amnesty our position is equally clear. We hope to see Home Rule accomplished or preceded by a graceful and generous act of clemency that will remove all cause for ill feeling. Our friends should press for amnesty, not on logical technicalities or contentions that are really injurious to the prisoners regarding the incidents of their trial, but on the ground of broad and liberal statesmanship." The address closes with a denunciation of the recently circulated report that the organization had resolved to disband and ascribing its origin to Ireland's enemies.

LIKELY TO BE DELAY.

The Money to Pay Off the Sealers' Claims Has Not Yet Arrived.

Owners and Captains See No Reason Why They Should Have to Wait.

No advice has as yet been received of the hundred odd thousand dollars which was sent out from England to Canada to pay off the sealers, owners, captains and hunters who suffered loss on account of the closing of Behring Sea after the schooners had been prepared for their voyage in 1891.

Now that the exact amount to be paid is known, those to whom the money is due are getting anxious about it. They want the cash as soon as possible, and cannot afford to be kept waiting.

It is pointed out that the hunters who are away on the schooners now out will not be able to be paid until they return, and the same is true of about all the Indians included in the list. They will have to give clear proof of identity, etc., and it is easily seen cannot be paid until well on in the season. Owners and captains, however, who are here on the ground, have made strong representations on this point. Collector of Customs A. R. Milne, with his customary desire to meet the wishes of all concerned as far as possible, has communicated with the authorities at Ottawa placing before them the facts, and suggesting that at any rate the owners and captains should be paid forthwith.

It is understood that a number of the sealers will accept the money under protest—that is, they will be glad enough to get what has been allowed them but think more should be given, and will say so in as emphatic a manner as possible.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE.

Preparations for the Great Naval Review—The Big Ball in Madison Square Gardens.

FORTRESS MONROE, April 25.—Thirty-one warships in Hampton Roads got up steam yesterday morning and, led by the American flagship Philadelphia and British flagship Blake, swung in double review before thousands gathered along the shore, making a grand pageant, and then steamed away for New York to participate in the grand naval parade on April 27.

NEW YORK, April 25. — The Spanish fleet, the first vessel of which passed Sandy Hook at 9:45 o'clock, went to anchor in Gravesend bay at 12:10 o'clock this morning. The entire naval review fleet of American and foreign ships anchored in the lower bay this morning just inside Sandy Hook, with the Philadelphia, carrying Rear Admiral Gherardi, at the head of the port column, and the British cruiser Blake, with Vice Admiral Sir John Hopkins aboard, at the head of the starboard column. In the morning the vessels will steam slowly up the North river and take place for Thursday's review by the President. Elaborate preparations are being made for the ball in Madison Square garden on Thursday night. Of 10,000 persons expected to be present, about 700 will be in the naval uniforms of ten different nations, and besides these there will be military officers present in full regimentals, so that the dances will likely present one of the most brilliant spectacles ever seen at an American ball.

Rapid and Effective Cure.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 17, 1893.

To Dean & Cryderman, druggists.

GENTLEMEN,—With much pleasure I add my testimony to your valuable Marvellous Rheumatic Cure. For three months I suffered terrible pain. Could not move only by the aid of two sticks. I have only taken two bottles of the medicine and two of the liniment, and I can now go without sticks, and hope after the third bottle to go to work.

Yours very thankfully,
S. NORMAN,
